WASHINGTON

FRIDAY AFTERNOON, DECEMBER 5.

NOTICE TO CITY SUSSCRIBERS.—A person named John Q. Adams, who was some time since engaged in distributing the American Telegraph in this city, is no longer so em-ployed. Our subscribers are requested not to settle any accounts with him, but with Mr. R. W. Gogon, our

The American Telegraph. On the 24th day of March last we issued the first number of the American Telegraph. Our city was then entering upon a long season of quietude, the short session having just terminated. There was no confidence in the public mind that our enterprise could succeed. Many of our best friends assured us that it could not; and some of them were candid enough to tell us that "a little month" would prove the duration of our existence. Persons experienced in the newspaper business pointed to the failures of like enterprises within a few years, and warned us to refrain from the venture. The merchants and other business men of Washington gave us the cold shoulder very emphatically; and the officers of the Government, with the single exception of the Clerk of the House of Representatives, have never recognised our existence. Yet here we are, after eight months, asking no favors and courting the smiles of none. We have done our duty; we have studied the wants of the people, and, as far as they have enabled us to do so, have supplied those wants. Our paper is a familiar in almost every They who advertise through its columns daily attest the advantages of the practice, and every day is to us a day of progress

Could we retrace the past, there are passages in the record we would expunge. Perhaps this is the experience of others. We do not know. At all events, it shall help to guide us in the future.

Ours is an independent journal, and such it shall continue to be. We will defend truth and justice with firmness, and yet meet all opponents with respect and courtesy. Favor and profit will not be the chief objects of our pursuit, nor shall our glory be in evanescent triumphs. The Telegraph is established upon a permanent basis; and although it may not soon bring us wealth, nor even a very liberal reward for our labors, these labors shall be uniformly and vigorously devoted to its success.

We have no favors to ask, yet are we grateful to our many readers for the pleasant intercourse they have permitted us to enjoy; and in return for the confidence they have bestowed upon us, and the good will they have manifested toward us, we take pleasure in informing them that our sheet will, in a few days, exhibit some material improvements.

The Census of 1850.

The Baltimore Sun of this morning contains a most extraordinary attack upon the census returns, as erroneous in point of fact as it is illiberal and unjust in its inferences and conjectures. We are surprised to find such an article per are we accustomed to look so confidently ment of such a law. for accuracy of statement and fairness of construction.

The Sun's article appears to be based upon the vague impressions of the writer, and of "the very few" he has "ever heard speak upon the subject," together with the following:

"As an instance of considerable doubt, if no of gross absurdity, returns are made from coun-ties in Maryland which contain only two persons natives of Germany. In one county it seems that there is none. In Frederick, for in-stance, it is set forth that there are but cight Irishmen and two Germans.'

The impressions of the editor and "the very few" are, of course, not susceptible of refutation; but the facts professedly derived from the returns are. These minute returns are not yet published, and access can be had to them only by application to the Superintendent of the Census. If, as we presume, the editor of the Sun did not resort to this source of information, he has thereby done great injustice to both Mr. Kennedy and himself. We have to-day taken the trouble to refer to the official statement, and we find that one county in Maryland is reported as containing only two Germans, and only ten foreigners in all; and we think if our friends of the Sun would pay a visit to that hospitable and patriotic county on the Eastern Shore, they would find these figures to be about right. Caroline has much to commend her to the love and admiration of the State of Maryland, but does not prove attractive to the laborious and enterprise-loving Europeans who visit our shores. Her homesteads are pleasant, and highly prized by her own people; while she has so many laborers of the sable race that little inducement is held out to immigrants to come

But the Sun says that Frederick county is set forth as containing but eight Irishmen and two Germans. This indeed tells a bad story for the census-takers, and is well calculated to discredit all their labors; but even here we have a pretty good rebutting argument with which to writer-it is that his statement is unfounded in fact! The official record shows that in Frederick there are 69 Englishmen, 339 Irishmen, 852 Germans, and 1,357 foreigners in all.

We are sure the Sun is not actuated by a wrong motive in this matter; and that had it not in an unguarded moment been led into error, the article before us would never have found a place in its columns. It appears to have taken up the notion that some plan superior to the present would accomplish the work of the census in an improved manner. This may possibly be true. Everything can be improved by experience. But let us not in the too eager pursuit of improvement misrepresent or undervalue the means and agencies we pos-sess. We have looked upon the labors of Mr. Kennedy and his assistants with much pleasure from the commencement to the present moment, He is a gentleman of great skill and extraordinary application. His task is one of Herculean de; but he has designed and executed it admirably. He is bringing out of chaos the statistics of the country, and his labors will lead to the organization of a bureau that will hereafter prove of great value to all the Departments of the Government, in preserving for constant reference, in the most accurate and concise form, every fact essential to wise legislation and the discreet administration of our national affairs.

An American Soldier. - We have heard men boast of the fighting men of our country. We do not think much of fighting, but a great deal of MAN, and we cannot endure his degradation. Late St. Louis papers state that a soldier at Jefferson Barracks, named William Gay, ab- public states that Justice Goddard yesterday day or so, and upon his return was placed under arrest. Information of the fact was communicated by a friend in the same company to Gay's mother, a Mrs. Ann Wood, residing in Alton, who immediately sued out a writ of habeas corpus, setting forth in her petition that Gay was, at the time of his enlistment, and is yet, a minor, and as such was illegally detained at Jefferson Barracks, and demanding his immediate release from Major Sanderson. Before the service of the writ, a courtmartial was held at the barracks, over which Lieut. Col. Porter presided. Gay pleaded guilty, and the court sentenced him to a forfeiture of all pay and allowance due him, to be branded on the hip with the letter D, to receive fifty lashes on the bare back well laid on with a raw-hide, to have his head shaved, and be drummed out of the service. The sentence was fully executed early the next morning. When the writ of habeas corpus was served that day, Major Sanderson returned an answer stating that no such person as Gay was in his command."

We had sooner see every epaulet and gilt button in our army and navy sent to the devil, and its wearer to the plough-handles, than admit the right of any human power to inflict upon an American citizen any such degrading punishment as this. If officers of these branches of our service tell us that such things are essential to discipline, and that discipline is essential to the existence of the two arms of our defence, then down with discipline and off with both arms! But such declarations are slanders upon our countrymen. Low wages and degrading treatment may indeed procure men who will bear the lash like currish dogs; but good wages, and the discipline that freemen may inflict and freemen receive, will insure good men and obedience to our laws.

Down with all notions of economy that can continue in our service such a burning disgrace. Raise the pay of the men : raise the standard be flogged-do these things, and be worthy of ber of Congress from the Dauphin district; was the name of republicans. The life of a soldier appointed by Governor Snyder president judge in the army of imperial Rome might be forfeited of the Dauphin, Lebanon and Schuylkill district; for no very heinous offence; but even he could was attorney general of the State, and in 1832 not be degraded by the lash of a petty tyrant in command. Let republican America not fall United States. He retired some years since below this in her estimate of the dignity of her from the active duties of his profession, and has sons. A noble nation, truly, to become the champion and exemplar of freedom throughout citizen. His character was beyond suspicion, the world!

We are told that Congress must restore the punishment of the lash in the navy, and again permit every snobbish upstart in the service to belabor the shoulders of the men under his command. We dare Congress or the Executive to appear before the people of this Union upon in that journal, above all others; for to no pas such an issue. We dare them to the re-enact-

The Profits on Daily Papers.

When before the committee of the British Parliament, last summer, Horace Greekey testified that the principal profit is derived from advertisements on daily papers; that on one cent papers the profit is nothing on the circulation. there being no duty on the advertisements, the prices are very much less for advertising. The prices range from 25 cents up to any amount; that is to say, 25 cents is the lowest; for instance, the advertisement of a religious meeting, or any public gathering, will be some 25 cents, or 1s. of the money of England; the consequence is, that the amount of their advertisements is enormous. Every religious meetciety, benevolent or philanthropic, is advertised in all the journals, and forms a very large proportion of our receipts, though the receipts in each case are very small. We regard those as a portion of the news of the day; and advertising which possesses a public interest is done at a less price than advertisements intended for the pecuniary profit of the advertiser. The advertisements are one main source of the value of daily papers, and thousands of business men take them mainly for these advertisements." Will our fellow-citizens reflect on this, and make a right application of the facts?

The Marble Work for the Extension of the Capitol.

The Baltimore Republican of yesterday says: "The marble for the exterior of the intended enlargement of the Capitol at Washington was put up to the lowest bidder. Seventeen propo-sals were sent in—the lowest being $773,918, by Provost & Winter; the highest, $880,000.

This is a wide mistake; and as it appears just now to be called for, we republish from the Telegraph of October 30, with slight corrections, the following:

The bids "for all the exterior marble work, embrsoing marble, workmanship, and setting, in-cluding, all expenses pertaining to the same," with the locations of the quarries wherein the marble is to be procured, are as follows:

INCENDIARIES. - We have frequently expressed the belief that by far the greater part of the fires occurring in this city were by the hands of incendiaries; and of the truth of this few, we believe, entertain any doubt. The Resented himself recently from the barracks for a morning committed to jail (for trial before the criminal court) a white man named David Y. Moore, on the charge of setting fire to wheat straw and wheat, and a lot of canvas, in the field of Mr. John M. Young, during last August. A marine named J. W. Bush testified that he was with Moore at the time, and saw him commit the deed. It is much to be regretted, the Republic adds, that the incendiaries who infest our city cannot be discovered and punished.

We cannot but believe that the reward now offered by the Mayor will lead to this result. It will take a little time; but the confidentials of the guilty ones will generally come right after a season of reflection.

BLACK Noses .- A ridiculous and contemptible resolution is said to have been introduc into the Kentucky legislature, which provides that the keeper of the penitentiary shall procure a suitable chemical dye, such as will stain the cuticle or outer surface of the skin perfectly black, so that it cannot be washed off, or in any way be removed, until time shall wear it away, and nature furnish a new cuticle or surface; and that with this dye he shall have the nose of each male convict painted thoroughly black, and renew the application as often as may be necessary to keep it so, until within one month of the expiration of his sentence, when it shall be discontinued for the purpose of permitting nature to restore the feature to its original hue, preparatory to the second advent of its owner into the world." If we understand the objects of our laws, they are to protect society and to reform guilty men. We do not understand that marring the features God has formed is well adapted to this purpose. We should think the pericardium must be dyed in the breast of a man who would prescribe so degrading a practice.

THE LATE HON. AMOS ELLMAKER.—This gentleman died last week in Lancaster. He was long an ornament to his profession, and was widely known as an eminent lawyer and excellent man. He was an officer in the army that of true dignity among the officers; retain no marched from Pennsylvania to the defence of man of either grade who would either flog or Baltimore in the war of 1812. MR. THRASHER'S LETTER .- The Republic of this morning alludes to the letter we published several days ago, dated in a dungeon of the Punta Castle, at Havana, on the 21st of November, signed by J. S. Thrasher, and addressed to the Government and People of the United States, and savs:

This is an unfortunate oversight in Mr. Thrasher; and the Government has, throughout the whole history of the Cuba troubles, been "I will state," said he, "how, in our country, kept in this kind of unblissful ignorance, and thereby deprived of the great gratification of requiring justice to be meted to Americans by the rabble and government of Cuba.

MONEY LOST AND FOUND .- The roll of bank notes, amounting to $90, lost on the Avenue on Tuesday night, and advertised in the American Telegraph on Wednesday, have been brought to our office by the finder, Professor J. A. C. IAR-DELLA, and returned to their owner.

THE DOINGS OF OUR CITY COUNCILS .- Mr. Mohun's resolution concerning the jail is welltimed and commendable. Mr. Pepper's resolution respecting the numbering of houses is important, and ought at once to be acted on. Mr. Pepper's joint resolution met with deserved success, in being passed instantly on its presentation: it is to the effect that an application be made to Congress for an amendment to the city charter, giving to the people the election of all officers of the corporation. This is a republican measure, demanded by the voice of our people, and will meet with a warm response from the Congress of the nation.

A magnificent entertainment was served on board.

All the shipping in the docks of Southampton were dressed with flags as the steamer moved off. A salute of twenty-one guns was fired, and tremendous cheers broke from the assembled multitude. Kossuth was powerfully affected on parting, and expressed his thanks for the kindness shown him in England.

Important from France! The news from France is most exciting. The most stormy debate ever known took place in the Assembly on the proposition for appointing an armed force to protect the deliberations of the Assembly. It was finally rejected by 108 majority. GAUTIER'S HERB CANDY,
For Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, etc.

THIS INVALUABLE CANDY has the extraordinary property of immediately relieving coughs, colds, hourseness, difficulty of breathing, bronchitis, asthma, and huskiness of the throat. It operates by dissolving the congealed phiegm, consequently causing a free expectoration. Those who are troubled with that unpleasant tickling in the throat, which deprives them of rest night after night, by the incessant cough which it provokes, will, by using this Candy, find immediate relief.

The subscriber, in presenting this Candy to public notice, wishes to be expressly understood that he does not claim for it any miraculous curing properties, nor does he present it with a long string of certificates of recommendation, as he considers these altogether needless.

This Candy is composed of six simple ingredients, principally of herbs, which are known to be very efficacious in the cure of diseases resulting from colds, and some of which, being rather nauseous in their natural state, would deter many from resorting to them; but, when made into a candy, become palatable, without losing any of their valuable properties.

It has been prepared at the suggestion of one of our most eminent physicions, and has been used by many of his and my personal friends with signal success, and at whose earnest solicitation I have been induced to enter largely into its manufacture, assured by him and them that when generally known and tried it will supersede all the various cough candies and mixtures now in use.

As for myself, I am confident, from the ingredients of which it is composed, that, should it not effect an entire cure, it can do no injury even to the most delicate in health, and therefore have no hesitancy in introducing it health, and therefore have no hesitancy in introducing it health, and therefore have no hesitancy in introducing it health, and therefore have no hesitancy in introducing in health, and therefore have no hesitancy in introducing in health, and therefore
